A close-up photograph of a solar panel, showing a grid of black rectangular cells and a white border. The panel is angled slightly, with the top right corner cut off.

A close-up, high-angle view of a solar panel. The panel consists of a grid of rectangular cells. A single, thick, dark diagonal line is drawn across the panel, starting from the top-left corner and ending at the bottom-right corner. The background is a dark, textured surface, likely the ground or a roof.
